In the Swim.

The lively and energetic George W.

Davidson is the proudest man in all Decatur to-day, and for good reason. He is the happy possessor of what is generally admitted to be the first sewing machine wagon in the wide, wide world. It is properly named the "Nation's Pride." It has all the modern trimmings, in gearing, springs, top and decorations—a model for all creation.

George is the Decatur agent for the famous Standard and New Home sewing machines, besides dealing in the favorite pianos and organs. His office is at 221 North Main. Drop in and see him, or drive up and "holler" and he'll come out.

Ordered to Stop.

To-day Marshal Mason served notice upon O. E. Curtis & Bro. and James

Millikin to stop building the second story projection at the Curtis building, and all work stopped. The projection over the walk for display purposes is about four feet. A lawyer is examining the ordinance in relation to the matter and will submit an opinion to-morrow.

MILLIONS for Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder—not a cent for the deadly alum brands.

Bold Robbers at Macon.

Thieves appear to have it in for the Gibson & Beschle general store and the postoffice at Macon. The store has been burglarized several times recently. Last night the store was entered again. The robbers carried away the iron safe found in the postoffice, took it to the edge of town, blew it open and stole $135 in money.

Club Meeting.

The Y. M. C. A. Century Club will meet this evening at 7:30, in the association parlor. All members and those wishing to join the club are urgently requested to be present. Business of importance to the club. By order of MILTON JOHNSON, Pres.

Guy Righter, Secy-Treas.

Found Dead in His Chair.

PANA, Ill., June 17.—John Adam

Rannaker, a pioneer, aged 89 years, was church.

The Meridian Knights will give a grand entertainment and festival tonight at the W. C. T. U. hall in Library block. Everybody is invited. Admission 10 cents.

To-day a marriage license was granted

Oscar Mueller and Miss Beatrice H.

Wetzel, both of Decatur. They will be married this evening.

If she proves equal to the requirements Admiral Beardslee will transfer his flag to her from the Philadelphia.

Unsworthiness of the Cruiser Olympia Alleged.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—The Daily Report says that the cruiser Olympia behaved in an alarming manner upon her cruise to Santa Cruz, from which place she returned Sunday. The cold fact is, says the Report, that even in that comparatively smooth summer sea the Olympia rolled in a most alarming manner, showing lack of stability and a top-heaviness that was ominous of disaster in case of heavy sea.

A Called Meeting.

Last night a called meeting of the official board of the First M. E. church was held. In the absence of Rev. Howe, J. R. Gorin was made chairman; S. R. Gher was secretary. The meeting was called in interest of the new Sunday school and mission work recently started by the Senior Endeavor society of the church on North Church street. A resolution was offered and adopted that three members of the official board be appointed to confer and co-operate with an equal number from the Endeavor society in the purchase of a lot and the construction of a building. Some other business was transacted, and the general sense of the meeting was that immediate solicitation must be made for funds to establish the work so well begun in the northern part of our city.

The more used, the better liked—Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

The Grain Dealers.

The mid-summer meeting of the Illinois Grain Dealers will be held in Decatur to-morrow. The dealers will come to the city accompanied by their ladies. The association will hold business sessions, and at night will enjoy a banquet to be spread at Turner Park.

YUKON RIVER JUSTICE.

A Girl Secures Her Rights Through a Miners' Court.

Locked Out of Her Employer's House with the Thermometer at Forty-Two Degrees Below Zero and Discharged Without Excuse.

C. H. Hamilton is a trader at Fort Cedars, on the Yukon river, says the Journal Record. Last year while in San Francisco and when about to return to his post in that far-off country, he secured through an intelligence service the services of a young Swede to act as a domestic in his house.
He left at the post, agreeing to pay her $1 a month and board, lodging and transportation, her wages to commence from the time she stepped aboard the boat at San Francisco on her long journey to the north. The young and unsophisticated little Swede girl had no idea of the long and tiresome journey she was about to embark upon, thinking when she entered into her agreement with Hamilton that she accepted a position somewhere out in the country. But she made no complaint, and as there was no turning back when once she started she reconciled herself to the situation.

Upon arriving at Fort Cudahy, Hamilton laid down to her a code of rather strict household laws, one clause of which compelled her to be in bed at 10 o'clock. At Fort Cudahy the only lady resident of the place was Mrs. Ned Ayle-ward, and being the only two females of the place, they naturally sought each other's company, and after the days' household work was done the little Swede domestic was in the habit of running over and spending the evening with Mrs. Ayleward. It happened one evening, through a social clue, that she stopped there after 10 o'clock, or after her allotted time, and upon returning to Hamilton's house she found herself locked out. She knocked and pounded at the door for half an hour, but no one would let her in, and so finding herself locked out with the thermometer shivering at 42 degrees below zero, she returned to Mrs. Ayleward's, where she received shelter and a bed for the night. The next morning upon returning to resume her duties again, Hamilton met her at the door and curtly informed her.

GATHERING LEAGUES

Cleveland, Ohio, Filling Up with Leading Republicans

IN THE INTERESTS OF THEIR PARTY.

Plans for the Conduct of the Next National Campaign to be Perfected—The Money Question Will Come Up.

Gathering of the National Republican Leagues.

CLEVELAND, O., June 17.—Delegates to the republican league convention began to arrive to-day. There were enough of them to attract attention in the lobbies of the hotels, and the talk on the money question, tariff and league politics heard on every side indicated that the great meeting was close at hand. National Secretary A. B. Humphrey arrived from Chicago and opened headquarters.

"The outlook for a great convention is fine. Never saw better prospects for a successful meeting," said he. "The league presidency? There are a half dozen candidates, but Gen. E. A. McAlpin, of New York, is the man. He has enough votes pledged to him now to insure his election. He will come with the New York special to-morrow night. Ex-Senator Warner Miller is coming with the boys. So are Prof. George Gunton, of the New York School of Economics, and Prof. Williams of Brown university. They will give these silver men some ideas on the money question. President W. W. Tracy will be here Tuesdays."

Senator Thurston, of Nebraska, will probably be the chairman of the free-for-all meeting Thursday. That is the meeting when any delegate may present any subject he pleases for discussion. It will be the occasion when the silver and gold men meet in battle array. An indication that the west will not be solid for free silver was given by Frank W. Bicknell, of Des Moines, who arrived Monday. He is the representative of the Iowa State Register and the Iowa member of the National League executive committee:

"Our platform is Allison's speech at Pittsburgh," he said. "We are for international bimetallism. We believe that it is not within the province of this convention to adopt any resolution concerning party principles. That is the business of the national convention. We are for Allison for president all the time, but will not make a great display over it here. We are on good terms with all the candidates and do not care to have any friction with the McKinley people on his own stamping ground."

Information received by the local committee of arrangements indicates that there will be about 1,500 delegates, and the number of visitors is estimated at 10,000. The city will be in holiday attire. Covers for 1,500 will be laid in the Arcade, where the banquet occurs on Thursday. The decorations of the interior of this immense structure are the finest ever seen in this state. James B. Hoyt, of this city, who was a prominent candidate for the republican gubernatorial nomination, will be toastmaster at the banquet.

Among those who are expected to respond to toasts and their themes are:

H. Clay Evans, of Tennessee: "Our Party and the New South."

D. D. Woodmansee, president of the Ohio League: "The Grand Old Party."

J. C. Burrows, of Michigan: "Fidelity and Dishonor and Political Integrity."

Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, of Iowa: "The Women's Republican Association of the United States."

Senator John M. Thurston, of Nebraska: "The National Republican League."

J. J. Ingalls of Kansas, has signified his intention of being present, but his toast has not been assigned to him.

Among the possible speakers are Chauncey Depew, J. B. Foraker and Gen. A. S. Bushnell.

The Champion of the Western Free Silver Advocates.

SALT LAKE, Utah, June 18.—Col. Isaac Trumbo, one of the delegates from Utah to the National Republican League convention, which convenes at Cleveland, O., on June 19, has been selected as the champion of the western free silver advocates in the convention. The colonel left here with the resolutions in his pockets, and will present them and make the arguments before the committee on their behalf. He is prepared to make a strong fight for the insertion of a bimetallic monetary plank in the platform which shall provide for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 with gold. The effect of the convention and its action thereon is looked for with a great deal of interest here, as it is said the silverites are uncompromising in their demands.

Departure of the Iowa Leagues.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 18.—The Iowa Republican league left for Cleveland over the Rock Island at 9:25 last evening, accompanied by the Iowa State band. One hundred of the leading republicans of the state made up the party, which has a special train. They will engineer the Allison boom for the presidency, and Gen. J. S. Clarkson for the state chairmanship. J. E. Blythe and D. E. Conway, president of the club, will manage it.

A. B. Cummins, candidate for United States senator to succeed Allison, also accompanied the party.

May Spend His Honeymoon in Durango.

MARSHALL, Ia., June 18.—Mr. Coxey's son-in-law, Carl Browne, expects to go to jail to-day at 2 o'clock for an indefinite period. He is under bond on a criminal charge, Coxey having signed the papers. The bond is about to expire and Coxey announces that he will not renew it and advises his friends not to do so.

PROMISCUOUSLY SCATTERED.

A Legal Search for a Dead Man's Valuables—The Result.

CUMBERLAND, Md., June 18.—About a month ago Mr. John G. Zink died at his residence on Lee street, leaving the bulk of his property, which amounts to $8,000, to his two sons. The will was filed about two weeks ago, and to prevent its being probated, a caveat was filed by Mrs. John McCormick and Mrs. Faber, daughters of the deceased.

Testimony was being taken yesterday morning when the caveat introduced evidence showing that the deceased was, before his death, his own banker. Mr. Robert Gordon, attorney for the caveators, arose and suggested that a search be made. The court granted permission.

The party found money of all denominations in corners, drawers, boxes and on top of cupboards and in chests tied up in rags. The sum found was $1,475.99. It was taken to the vaults of the orphans' court, where it was deposited.

TWO THOUSAND WORKMEN

Made Glad by an Announced Advance in Wages.

CLEVELAND, O., June 18.—Notice of a 10 per cent increase in wages was posted in the works of the National Malleable Casting Co. yesterday. The action was a voluntary one on the part of the company, and was taken because of the improvement in business.

The Eberhard Manufacturing Co. took similar action.

Said Vice-President Champney, of the Eberhard Co.: "When business was dull we were obliged to make a reduction. Matters are brighter now, and it is no more than proper that the men should be given the advantage of the situation."

The Eberhard company employs 1,100 men and the National company 900. Other manufacturing firms are considering the question of advancing wages.

OPEN WAR DECLARED

By Chicago Justices of the Peace Against Gov. Altgeld.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Gov. Altgeld's rejection of numerous justices of the peace in Cook county, who were recommended to the governor and legislature by the judges of the state courts in this county in the usual manner, resulted yesterday in open war being declared by three of the present incumbents, Thomas Bradwell, Charles J. White and Justice Porter, who are now serving as police justices, sued for an injunction against their successors taking hold. Judge Tuthill granted a temporary injunction in the cases of Bradwell and White. They will fight for their offices until the supreme court passes on the questions involved. The chief ground is that the governor did not notify the judges of his rejections so that others could have been recommended.

TO SURRENDER TO-DAY.

Making Good His Defalcation Will Not Save Ex-State Treasurer Taylor.

DEADWOOD, S. D., June 18.—State Treasurer Phillips announced yesterday that he had received word that W. W. Taylor, the defaulter, would surrender at Pierre to-day. The governor and Treasurer Phillips declared that the state would not lose a cent, as property valued at more than the amount of the defalcation had been turned over by Taylor and his bondsmen. Criminal proceedings, however, will be taken against him with as much severity as if he were a less prominent criminal, so the state authorities assert.

SERIOUS TROUBLE

Likely to Follow the Introduction of Colored Miners.

LEHIGH, Ia., June 18.—Serious trouble is feared between the white and colored miners. The former have been striking for higher wages since spring and the operators have imported sixty colored miners from Tennessee. Sunday night the cabins prepared for the colored men were burned, and the white miners assert that there will be bloodshed if the negroes enter the mines. The sheriff is preparing to call for state troops.

ONLY POOR HORSES FOR BOBY.

CHICAGO, June 18.—A lot of the best race horses were taken east and south yesterday and others will follow each day until the poorer ones only are left at Roby. Matt Birnes sent his string and Marcus Daly's horses to Sheephead. J. W. Rogers took his own stable, Bob Rose's and Perry Belmont's, while Col. Dan Burns sent the Californians east. A few of each stable may stop off at Detroit. Ed Corrigan will divide his string between Detroit, St. Louis and Cincinnati.

TWO BOYS KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 18.—Tom Buttewick, 15 years of age, and his brother George, aged 13, sons of a well-known farmer, who lives two miles west of Quindaro cemetery, six miles from this city, were struck by lightning and killed while at work in a field on their father's farm yesterday afternoon.

ARRESTED FOR EMBEZZLING SCHOOL FUNDS.

ELLSWORTH, Kan., June 18.—Erving Black, treasurer of school district 28, this county, was yesterday arrested for embezzling $1,400 from the district. He was bound over in $300 bonds. This is another case growing out of the Treasurer Dick defalcation of last October.

THE NORWEGIAN CABINET CRISIS.

CHRISTIANIA, June 18.—King Oscar has asked ex-Minister Jacob Bonnevie, a conservative, to form a compromise ministry, and he has consented to undertake the task.

A FRANCE-RUSSIAN ALLIANCE CONCLUDED.

PARIS, June 18.—The Paris correspondent of the Independence Belgian telegraph that, despite the denials, a Franco-Russian alliance has been concluded.

The Austrian cabinet has decided to resign in consequence of internal dissensions.

SWEPT BY A CYCLONE

Portions of Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa

VISITED BY DESTRUCTIVE STORMS.

Everything in the Path of the Cyclone Swept Perfectly Bare—Large Loss of Property and but Few Casualties Noted.

HARTFORD, Kan., June 18.—About 5 o'clock last evening a cyclone struck this place, coming from the southwest and swept everything from its path, which was clean cut and about 100 feet in width. No one, so far as known, was actually killed, although several persons were injured so badly they are not expected to live. The wounded are:

Mr. Lawson, will die.

Mrs. Lawson, seriously hurt.

Mrs. Mary E. Rawson, probably fatally injured.

Corr Rawson, severely hurt.

Ola Rawson, badly cut about the head.

Mrs. H. K. Smith, severely hurt.

About twelve houses were totally destroyed and many barns and out-houses. Among the houses totally destroyed were those of Judge W. J. Combs, Mrs. Rawson, Stuckey's barn and mill, Clarence Conley, L. F. Dudley, J. A. Thompson, W. G. Root, Godfrey Schwartz and several others.

The roof of Clarence Conley's house was lifted off as clean as if the house had been put up and the roof left unfinished, the remainder of the structure being unharmed. Many other houses are more or less damaged. The total loss is estimated at all the way from $10,000 to $20,000.

An eyewitness of the storm, F. B. Tucker, a traveling man from Emporia, says:

I was in the incoming Missouri, Kansas & Texas train, due at Hartford at 5:20. Just as the train was stopping, I and another passenger noticed to the southwest a peculiarly-shaped white cloud formed nearly like a balloon, but a little more tapering. Its peculiar whiteness first attracted our attention. In a few moments it seemed to stretch, put its neck to the ground, turning darker. Then clouds from all directions seemed to cluster around the top end as the small end struck the earth, trees, fences, everything it struck, in fact, were torn up and lifted into the air. The first house it struck seemed to be lifted bodily into space and in a second beams, furniture, stoves, bedding and all kinds of material were seen shooting in all directions, high up in the air. By this time passengers were beginning to notice that the funnel-shaped cloud was coming straight for the car in which we were and inquiries began to be made as to what was best to be done.

"Suddenly a Methodist preacher (I do not know his name) solved the question by shouting, 'Here goes for the prairie,' and rushed to the door followed by every one in the car. None, however, were able to catch him. The run was not necessary, for when only about 100 feet from the car the storm center took a sudden turn and swept past the rear of the train without touching it.

"The storm after passing through the town to the east seemed to jump the Neosho river and then rise and disappear in the air.

SEVEN MILES WIDE AND THIRTY IN LENGTH.

WALLACE, Neb., June 18.—A cyclone of terrific force, covering a territory ten miles wide and about thirty in length, passed just north of here Sunday afternoon, taking a southwesterly course and sweeping everything in its path. Houses, barns, windmills, fences, etc., were picked up and carried for miles.

As yet only one death is reported, that of Joseph Young, whose house was picked up and carried three miles in the air and then scattered in ruins. Mr. Young was the only one of the family in the house at the time, the others having previously gone to the storm cave. His body was found yesterday half a mile from where the house stood. He was horribly mangled with every shred of clothing torn from him.

The members of the families of Matthew Born, John Staley and Martin Lakin were more or less injured. Their houses were taken from over their heads. Peter Lapland reports losing ten head of horses by lightning. Further than this nothing can be learned, but it is feared that deaths will be reported from the east end of the county.

BERLIN'S ROYAL CASTLE.

The Famous White Hall Improved by Emperor William.

Both the Kaiser and the Municipal Council Desire to Make Berlin the Handsomest and Most Artistic City in Europe.

[Special Berlin Letter.]

When the present young emperor ascended the throne everybody about the court knew that a new era had begun, for his love of splendor and luxury, of elegance and refinement in external things had been remarked even during the days when he was plain Prince William, son of Crown Prince Frederick William, and when his aspirations and tastes were in strange contrast with his purse. The young monarch at once gave it out that his intention was over the portals leading into the chapel. The niches running around the long sides show statues of the eight Prussian kings and of the great elector, each of these executed by one sculptor of renown, among them Schaper, Calandrelli and Hundrieser, while the massive and symbolic decorations are by Prof. Otto Lessing and Westphal. Outside, in the two large niches towards the wide staircase, relief portraits on horseback of Frederick the Great and of the great elector are to be seen. As to the color effects produced these are of white and gold, with the single exception of the bright hues of the Hohenzollern crest upon the ceiling and of the base of the pillars. The throne, of course, is red and gold—no other furniture of any kind in this mighty hall. The total impression thus produced is that of imposing, chaste simplicity. It is of interest to note that in this as in the carrying out of all details the ideas of the emperor have prevailed. He, in fact, was the architect-in-chief to whom the score of artists and sculptors had to submit, and all through last year, while the work of transforming the old hall into the present one was progressing, it was he who advised the sculptors and decorators.

The old White hall, the work of Stuler in 1844, was likewise very fine, being more ornate and dazzling by its splendid color effects, but its dimensions were of a more modest kind and no longer suited to the increased dignity of occasions when the new imperialism of Germany wanted to show itself in all its impressive splendor. The approaches to it and the flight of stairs, too, leading up to the old White hall had become insufficient in the course of time, so as to occasion excessive crowding on days like that of the coronation and of the order festival. In its present shape there is ample room for several thousand at a time in the hall itself, and on the wide galleries running round it another 2,000 or 3,000 may find room.

The present emperor is still young, but his plans of embellishment are extensive enough to be spread over a period of thirty or forty years. He intends to renovate the whole immensity "Schloss," to do which would swallow up $20,000,000 or $30,000,000, and he means to carry out his ideas in his castles and palaces in Potsdam as well, where his ambition is to erect some day, when the state of his treasury will permit it, an edifice of truly regal proportions and luxury, something like to make his court the most brilliant in the world and to transform Berlin during his reign into the most beautiful of all capital cities. As for his court he has already carried out his aims, for that has really become what Napoleon III's court at the Tuilleries was during the heyday of that ruler's glory and power. As to Berlin—that still lies in the future, for at present Paris, despite the absence of a splendor-loving imperial court, is still accorded, by general consent, the place of the most beautiful and gayest metropolis of the universe. Emperor William II. has neither the absolute power and the enormous sums at his disposal, nor has he a Baron Hansmann, the all-powerful prefect of the Seine, to tear down narrow, crooked street after street and erect straight, broad boulevards and avenues in their stead. The task of making Berlin as beautiful and attractive as Paris is a task, however, which animates the Berlin municipal council as much as the imperial breast, and year after year, without much noise, that body of men brings the ideal nearer to realization. The emperor on his part does as much as his means allow—and even sometimes more than—that in embellishing the castles, chateaux and estates belonging to the imperial household. Just now it is the historic old castle at Berlin, that immense, age-begrimed pile in the most ancient part of the town, which the emperor is gradually changing into something as bright, handsome and alluring as taste and money can make it.

The chief transformation wrought so far is that of the White hall. On January 18, 1871, as William I. was proclaimed German emperor in the Hall of Mirrors at Versailles, that superb scene of Louis XIV's triumphs, he remarked to his son, the tall crown prince, "A pity we don't have everything as beautiful as that in the Berliner Schloss!" Well, the White hall to-day is as fine in its way as the Hall of Mirrors in Versailles was.

But it has taken the labors of many famed architects, and of a whole string of the best German sculptors and painters, as well as over 4,000,000 marks, to make the White hall what it is to-day, although in some of its minor details it is not yet finished. It was dedicated to its new use a few months ago, on the occasion of the opening of the Prussian diet, when the emperor read his throne speech in it. A brief description of this magnificent hall, certainly one of the finest on the globe, may be of interest.

It has a length of 31 1/2 meters (or about 105 feet) and a width of 55 feet. The ceiling has the shape of a flattened bee-hive, so as to avoid all corners and sharp angles. The small sides are divided into three parts by pillars and portals, while the long sides form six open arches. The style throughout is that of the later renaissance. Up on the ceiling the four quadrangular spaces in the central row present, executed in vivid colors and with gilt, the four Hohenzollern crests, that of the electors, of the kings, and of the emperors, with the eagles of white, scarlet and black plumage, respectively, thus bringing out the German tricolor prominently. In the lower spaces, bending towards the walls, allegorical bas-reliefs in white, showing war and peace in their beneficial and destructive tendencies, are grouped very effectively.

The portraits, in heroic size, of the three emperors, William I., Frederick

WILLIAMS IN COURT.

On Trial For Tying Joey Jones to a Tree and Whipping Him.

In Justice Hardy's court to-day Henry Williams is on trial by jury for the alleged brutal whipping of little Joey Jones, aged 9 years, a boy he had taken to raise. There is a great array of witnesses from the Oklahoma district, in which vicinity the little darkey boy got the flogging after he had been tied to a tree by the muscular colored man. A. H. Mills, the assistant state's attorney, is prosecuting Williams, and Attorneys J. L. Whitley and W. B. Woodford appear for the defendant. It was decided to submit the case to a jury and considerable time was taken up in getting six acceptable men to undertake the responsibility of bringing in a verdict. Williams sat beside his attorneys silently, and seemed to be waiting for a chance to tell his story. Back of him seated on a chair much too ample for him, was the little colored lad with big eyes and a scared look, wondering no doubt if he was going to get another licking. He was in charge of a colored woman.

The lawyers will go to the very depths of the case, and show the jury just how badly the boy was whipped. His back and arms will be bared to show the welts. The line of the defense will be that Williams was justified in whipping the boy.

The Fire Commissioners.

The board of fire commissioners nominated by the mayor one week ago were confirmed last night by the unanimous vote of the aldermen. They are H. C. Dempsey, William Dodson and H. C. Anthony. They are all first-class appointments. Both Dempsey and Anthony are comparatively young men and both have proven themselves to be careful business men. Clay Dempsey is general foreman at the furniture factory and excels in his systematic method of doing things. He is practical, and will be efficient in doing the best that can be done for the department without involving the city in unnecessary expense, which is also true of Messrs. Anthony and Dodson.

H. C. Anthony has been a resident of Decatur for twelve years and owns and conducts a ladies' and gents' furnishing goods store on East Main street. He is a careful business man and has succeeded in business and will prove a good and safe member of the board of fire commissioners.

William Dodson resides in the Fifth ward and is a retired business man. He was for many years, under the volunteer fire department, the fire chief and has done the city good service in that department. He is thoroughly familiar with the needs, as well as the duties of the members of the department, has plenty of time at his disposal and is as good a selection as could possibly have been made. It is fair to predict that the new board, the department and the city council will act in harmony in the important matter of fire protection and good service.
